PSE ARCHERY IS FULLY OPERATIONAL & BACK TO BUILDING THE WORLD'S BEST BOWS!

08/05/2020

Dear PSE Consumers and Dealers,

PSE is happy to announce that as of Friday, May 1st, we are once again able to restart our factory operations in the state of Arizona. Thanks to all of you, the demand for PSE bows has remained high, even during this COVID-19 crisis.

Please know that we are producing bows as quickly as we can, while still maintaining safety guidelines as laid out by the State of Arizona and the CDC. We appreciate your patience as our operation gets back to full speed.

We once again want to assure you that even though we are ramping up production, PSE is taking all necessary precautions to ensure the health and safety of our employees. We've implemented social distancing throughout our company, with non-essential and at-risk employees working remotely. For production employees, we are requiring masks, and have set up additional break rooms. We've also spread out our larger departments, and added sanitising stations throughout the building. Every department is also cleaned and decontaminated throughout the day.

Thank you all for your continued support. Without you, there would be no PSE. We are all in this together.

Sincerely,

Lonnie Workman

VP of Sales, PSE Archery.

UPDATE

COVID-19: Lock Down - Self Isolate - Social Distancing are words I am looking forward to never use again.

We are starting to see some light on the target, as countries start lifting restrictions and announce the “New Normal”. During this time, I guess we have all had time to reflect on our lives, and maybe realise what is important and what is not. I know in my case, I have spent more time with my family and have become more appreciative of what I have. So, I have adopted a what I have right now - enjoy it now approach!

I have missed archery and all the social and competitive aspects that go along with it and then, something happened. I remembered the beginning.

Archery might be about learning new skills, or enhancing old ones. Having fun and creating excitement with family and friends. Or it maybe it's experiencing the thrill of being on the line, staring down the target in front of you or out in the scrub just in nature's awe.

Archery is what you want it to be, an escape, a highlight, a career, a day with the kids, a day without the kids, fitness, some alone time, or just a social event.

So go get it, get out there there and live it.

See you next issue.

Lyndon

Come in and meet the family.

I make it one plate at a time so you can add or subtract ingredients. Sometimes I add fresh tomatoes or hot peppers. It's up to you.

Italian Wild Turkey

Marinate cubed Turkey breasts for 1 hour in Italian dressing then sauté in butter. Butter, onions, bell pepper, corn , baby Limas in skillet cook till tender add in Turkey then cooked egg noodles and Italian seasoning and salt and pepper to taste plate and top with Parmesan cheese. I make it individual plates per skillet so you can add or subtract whatever you want.

The image is a composite. The foreground is dominated by a close-up of a PSE Evon TN bow, showing its intricate design, green and black limbs, and a complex pulley system. The bow is angled upwards. In the background, a person is standing in a dimly lit indoor archery range, aiming at a target. The target is illuminated with a bright green light. The background also features a large banner with the 'EVON TN' logo and a shield emblem.

The new Quickstand bow bi-pod sticks are now shipping and available through your local authorised PSE dealer.

RHYTHM
HEART

I have been working for myself since the start of 2019.

I generally work around my training and competition schedule which includes keeping focussed and maintaining my form for the Tokyo 2021 Paralympics.

PSE OZ: So Jono, you've mentioned you work around your training, what work do you do?

JONO: I have 2 small business which I operate to feed my hunger for archery and of course feed me as well.

PSE OZ: What are the businesses?

JONO: The first is RHYTHM BOWSTRINGS. I really enjoy making new bowstrings and cables, its sort of my Zen so to speak, second only to fletching.

I ensure the correct factory specs are used to compliment the vast range of bows out there today. I can also make custom sets for those with discerning tastes. For example I can use a range of different colours, serving thickness and number of strands used. In some cases I actually get to fit them onto bows which customers send to setup and tune. It's very satisfying to make something and actually see it in action.

PSE OZ: Sounds awesome, I'll hit you up for my next set mate. You mentioned you had 2 businesses, whats the second?

JONO: PRECISION ARCHERY. I haven't started advertising yet as I don't want to be too busy with work that I won't have time to train or compete so it's it's pretty much word of mouth at the moment which still keeps me pretty busy with coaching, setting up/tuning peoples gear, building arrows, strings as well as selling gear that I import or I buy from shops.

In the future I plan to have my own shop with an indoor 18m range that I can have weekly indoor competitions, school groups, corporate groups and coaching squads to help progress the sport.

AUSTRALIA

RHYTHM IS IN THE HEART

PSE OZ: Now with the onset of CORONA VIRUS or COVID-19 we have seen sporting competitions all around the world postponed or cancelled, and that is ALL sports, including the pinnacle - 2020 Tokyo Paralympic Games which you qualified for representing Australia. How does that affect your mental game and training regime knowing you have to stay focussed for another whole year?

JONO: I was pretty disappointed when they canceled the Olympics and Paralympics as I had really put the effort in with getting my scores up and I am in the best form of my life. The only upside I see is that I have an extra year to improve and get better.

I'm still shooting almost every day because I am lucky enough to have a family friend who has given me a place to shooting inside his warehouse which I've got a 50m range set up that I use day or night.

Having a 50m indoor range really helps working out what bow setup works the best and what is most forgiving, having perfect conditions to shoot in let's you really fine tune your form and gear because if you miss you cant blame it on the wind.

I am very fortunate to have the assistance of some amazing Archery Companies standing by me and every time I train or compete, I think of their gracious support and I am 100% committed to do my very best and enjoy this sport of Archery as they would want me to do.

PSE OZ: If going by past achievements and commitment levels, you will definitely do yourself, your family and Australia proud. We wish you all the very best mate!

Archery's first online international tournament started on May 1st.

The eight compound archers who competed in the first Lockdown Knockout remote archery tournament have been announced.

Mike Schloesser, Anders Faugstad, Domagoj Buden and Steve Anderson fill the four men's places. Sara Lopez, Paige Pearce, Linda Ochoa-Anderson and Toja Ellison are the four women.

The competition began on May 1st with qualification, which was filmed, and matches were streamed live from 9-17 May.

Each archer shot a 60-arrow ranking round for seed. Women occupied one side of a knockout bracket, men the other. Matches followed the usual 15-arrow format, with winners advancing and losers being eliminated. The final was between a man and a woman. The winner received 1000 CHF and the runner-up 500 CHF.

Matches took place in the afternoon in Europe. Scheduling took place on a match-by-match basis.

SELECTION AND SAFETY

The Lockdown Knockout is purely invitational. English-speaking international archers in European and American time zones were considered based on fan following, geographical distribution and access to the appropriate technology. Only archers who could safely shoot in socially distanced settings and accordance with local health guidelines were permitted to participate. World Archery suspended its international competition calendar due to the current outbreak of COVID-19. No physical events will take place before the start of July, with the situation reviewed monthly.

ARCHERS

Mike Schloesser: Triple-discipline world champion and winner of the 2019 Hyundai Archery World Cup Final in Moscow. Currently ranked number two in the world.

Anders Faugstad: Runner-up at the senior world championships and winner of the junior world championships in 2019.

Domagoj Buden: Multiple world medallist and current European field champion.

Steve Anderson: Winner of the World Archery Field Championships in 2016 and owner of 14 medals on the Hyundai Archery World Cup circuit.

Sara Lopez: Five-time Hyundai Archery World Cup Champion and current world number two.

Paige Pearce: Runner-up at the 2019 Hyundai World Archery Championships and winner of the 2020 Indoor Archery World Series Finals.

Linda Ochoa-Anderson: Silver medallist at the 2018 Hyundai Archery World Cup Final, who took a one-year break from competition to switch teams from Mexico to the USA.

Toja Ellison: Reigning European Games and European field champion. Currently ranked number eight in the world.

World Archery rules will be applied where possible, with common sense adjustments. The competition will take place over 18 metres with all archers using thin (outdoor) arrows.

SARA LOPEZ SECURES SPOT IN LOCKDOWN KNOCKOUT SEMIS WITH INCREDIBLE COMEBACK WIN.

World number two Sara Lopez shot a perfect 30 points to erase a two-point deficit in the final end of her Lockdown Knockout quarterfinal against Toja Ellison and force a shoot-off. She rode the momentum, nailing a 10 in the single-arrow shoot-off. Ellison pushed her tiebreak arrow to the right, slightly wide and in the nine. It handed Lopez the victory.

"We had a lot of fun putting this together and I'm really happy. I was really stressed about the weather but everything worked perfectly so I'm really happy and proud," said Sara. "Thanks to Toja for making this fun, too." Colombia's Lopez will face Paige Pearce, of the USA, in the semifinals of World Archery's first remote international tournament on Friday. The five-time Hyundai Archery World Cup Champion showcased her indomitable mental resilience against Toja. Sara trailed by a point from early on. By the start of the fifth end, Toja's lead had expanded to two.

Knowing she needed nothing less than a perfect score to put pressure on her Slovenian opponent, Lopez quickly drilled three excellent 10s. Toja put two of her arrows in the nine. It levelled the match at 143 points. Toja shot at the bottom left face of the triangular triple-spot in use during this tournament.

She had shot four of five 10s on it during the regulation 15 arrows. This sixth shot landed in the nine, by barely a millimetre. Lopez, buoyed by her last-chance comeback to secure the tiebreak, delivered once again. She landed a clear 10 in the top face. The typically emotional 25-year-old was clearly pleased with the win. Each woman praised the other during the post-match interviews, saying they'd been in touch and had been offering support to each other during the current health situation and international hiatus. "Congratulations to Sara, I wouldn't expect anything less of her than a 30 to finish.

The nerves just got the best of me in the last end but I had fun," said Toja. "For me, it's been fun to shoot a tournament. I'm sad it's over because I just wanted to continue competing and shooting and having fun with my friends, but I wish good luck to everybody."

TEAM PSE ANDERS FAUGSTAD INTO LOCKDOWN KNOCKOUT FINAL AFTER SEMIFINAL WIN OVER SCHLOESSER

Top seed Anders Faugstad of Norway shot 149 out of a possible 150 points to beat Mike Schloesser of the Netherlands by two and secure his place in the final of the Lockdown Knockout, the first international remote archery tournament.

"It was really cool. It's a really good target, so it's kind of a shame that I had that one nine," said Faugstad. "It was an awesome match and Mike shot really good." Faugstad opened the match with a perfect 30 points. Schloesser wasn't as settled, missing the 10-ring twice and hitting a 28.

It put the Dutchman in an early hole. The 20-year-old Norwegian world youth champion was near perfect for the duration. His lone blemish came on the fifth arrow. He held for a long time, then ripped his hinge release to send the arrow downrange. It hit the bottom of the nine, bleeding into the red eight-ring. Schloesser used the opportunity to recover a point and was only trailing by one after six arrows. Anders didn't drop another point. Mike did, exclaiming 'no' after a quick 11th arrow landed barely a millimetre below the 10-ring in the top face of the triple-spot target.

It put his opponent back in a two-point lead, 119-117, heading into the final end. "The wind got me, and it was just like less than a millimetre out," Schloesser said afterwards.

In a bold move, Mister Perfect chose to shoot his match outdoors despite some blustering winds.

Anders is competing from an indoor range. Three-discipline world champion Mike finished with a perfect 30 but so did Anders.

The latter added this 149-point 15-arrow match to an already impressive record in the Lockdown Knockout, which saw him shoot 596 points for qualifying and a first-round match of 148.

"It was just not my day, I felt good and shot really good, I'm happy about that and Anders shot even better than me, so he definitely deserves the win," said Mike.

Faugstad admitted to feeling the nerves before going live. "I know he can shoot 150 if he has the day and as he said, it's a little bit windy where he is," he said. "Since he shoots outdoors, there are a lot more factors going into shooting, but it was just a really fun match."

COLOMBIA'S SARA LOPEZ NAMED CHAMPION OF FIRST LOCKDOWN KNOCKOUT

The Lockdown Knockout was the first live remote international archery tournament.

Colombian world number two Sara Lopez beat Norway's reigning World Archery Youth Champion Anders Faugstad, 146-144, to become champion of the first Lockdown Knockout. The invitational event saw eight compound athletes from around the world compete remotely. "I'm really happy because I knew it was going to be hard. I knew that he was going to shoot incredible," said Sara. "I'm really happy also to be part of this. It is part of history and being able to shoot with all these incredible archers and represent all the women out there."

"To be honest, I got a little frustrated at the beginning with the connection, I had a lot of help from my family and we were able to put this together and it was a great match."

After first ends of 28 points from both archers, the connection to the remote video that Lopez was sending failed. The sunny and hot weather at her home in Pereira, a city in the foothills of the Andes, caused her devices to overheat. But Sara's brother and father were on hand. Sporting umbrellas to protect the cameras from the heat and with everything reconnected, the match resumed.

Despite the distraction, the reigning Hyundai Archery World Cup Champion was on point. She shot a perfect 30 in the second end and another in the third. Anders was not comfortable; he'd dropped four by the time he'd shot his ninth arrow and trailed, 88-86. "I have this thing over my eye so that I don't see double, but I moved it in the past round, so I saw double and I wasn't sure where to aim. It was a bad shot," explained Anders, pointing to the eye shield attached to the rim of his cap. The Norwegian 20-year-old couldn't recover the rhythm and consistency he displayed during the first two matches that saw him shoot 148 and 149 points in wins over Steve Anderson and Mike Schloesser.

As Lopez added light rain to the list of obstacles on the range in Colombia, she held off any charge from Anders in the fourth, matching his 29-point end and leaving things at 117-115. Faugstad finished the same in the fifth, shooting 10, 10 and a nine. At the targets, Sara needed to make a tight call on one of her last shots: "I have a 10, 10 and I don't know but I would say it's a nine, it's really close." The five-time Hyundai Archery World Cup Champion took the match, 146-144.

CHAPTER 6

PSE EVO NXT 33 BOW REVIEW

By Jake Gasparovski

Straight out of the box, first impressions was the top quality finish and that a lot of thought and engineering had gone into this bow. Which is to be expected of PSE.

PSE's popular evolve cam system is one of the biggest attributes of this bow. It offers an accommodating draw range from 26.5-32" and let off from 80-90%, which is easily adjusted with a draw stop.

A yolk cable system minimises cam lean. The wedge lock limp pockets are an extremely robust limb pocket system. The riser with a generous 7" brace height makes it a super forgiving bow. The riser being proportionally long does not have the cage system like previous models. This makes the bow extremely stable and easy to hold and aim. Having two front stabiliser mounts, a standard placement and lower one, it gives the archer greater stabilisation options.

The benefit of a rear stabilizer mount also allows a rear bar if required. Parallel limbs, along with a good quality stabilizer decreases noise and hand vibration massively. The cable guard being straight as opposed to a flexible cable guard of past models, is a great improvement as it can be moved in or out to adjust cam length and torque. One of the biggest improvements is the grip. With a new rubber synthetic soft touch, warm in the hand, removable grip. This is great for archers who like the direct to riser target bow feel.

SET UP AND SHOOTING - Straight onto the work bench, the bow was perfect to spec, axle to axle length of 33", within .2 of a pound of draw weight and draw length set out of the box at 29". Draw length adjustment was extremely easy with the sliding module system, to my draw of 31", without the use of a bow press to adjust.

The string and cables were some of the best quality factory strings that I've come across, with zero peep rotation or stretch after numerous shots. Paper tuning was a breeze, with true centre shot and the small adjustments of the cable guard in or out, had a bare shaft shooting a bullet hole in no time. this bow also has the option of shimming the cams left or right easily if need be.

The draw cycle of this bow is extremely smooth, it drops nicely into the valley without a hard lump at the end. The back wall is very firm and though the valley is not particularly deep, the cam system is not trying to tear it out of your hand. At the shot, the bow is incredibly dead in your hand, with virtually no vibration and very quiet.

SUMMARY

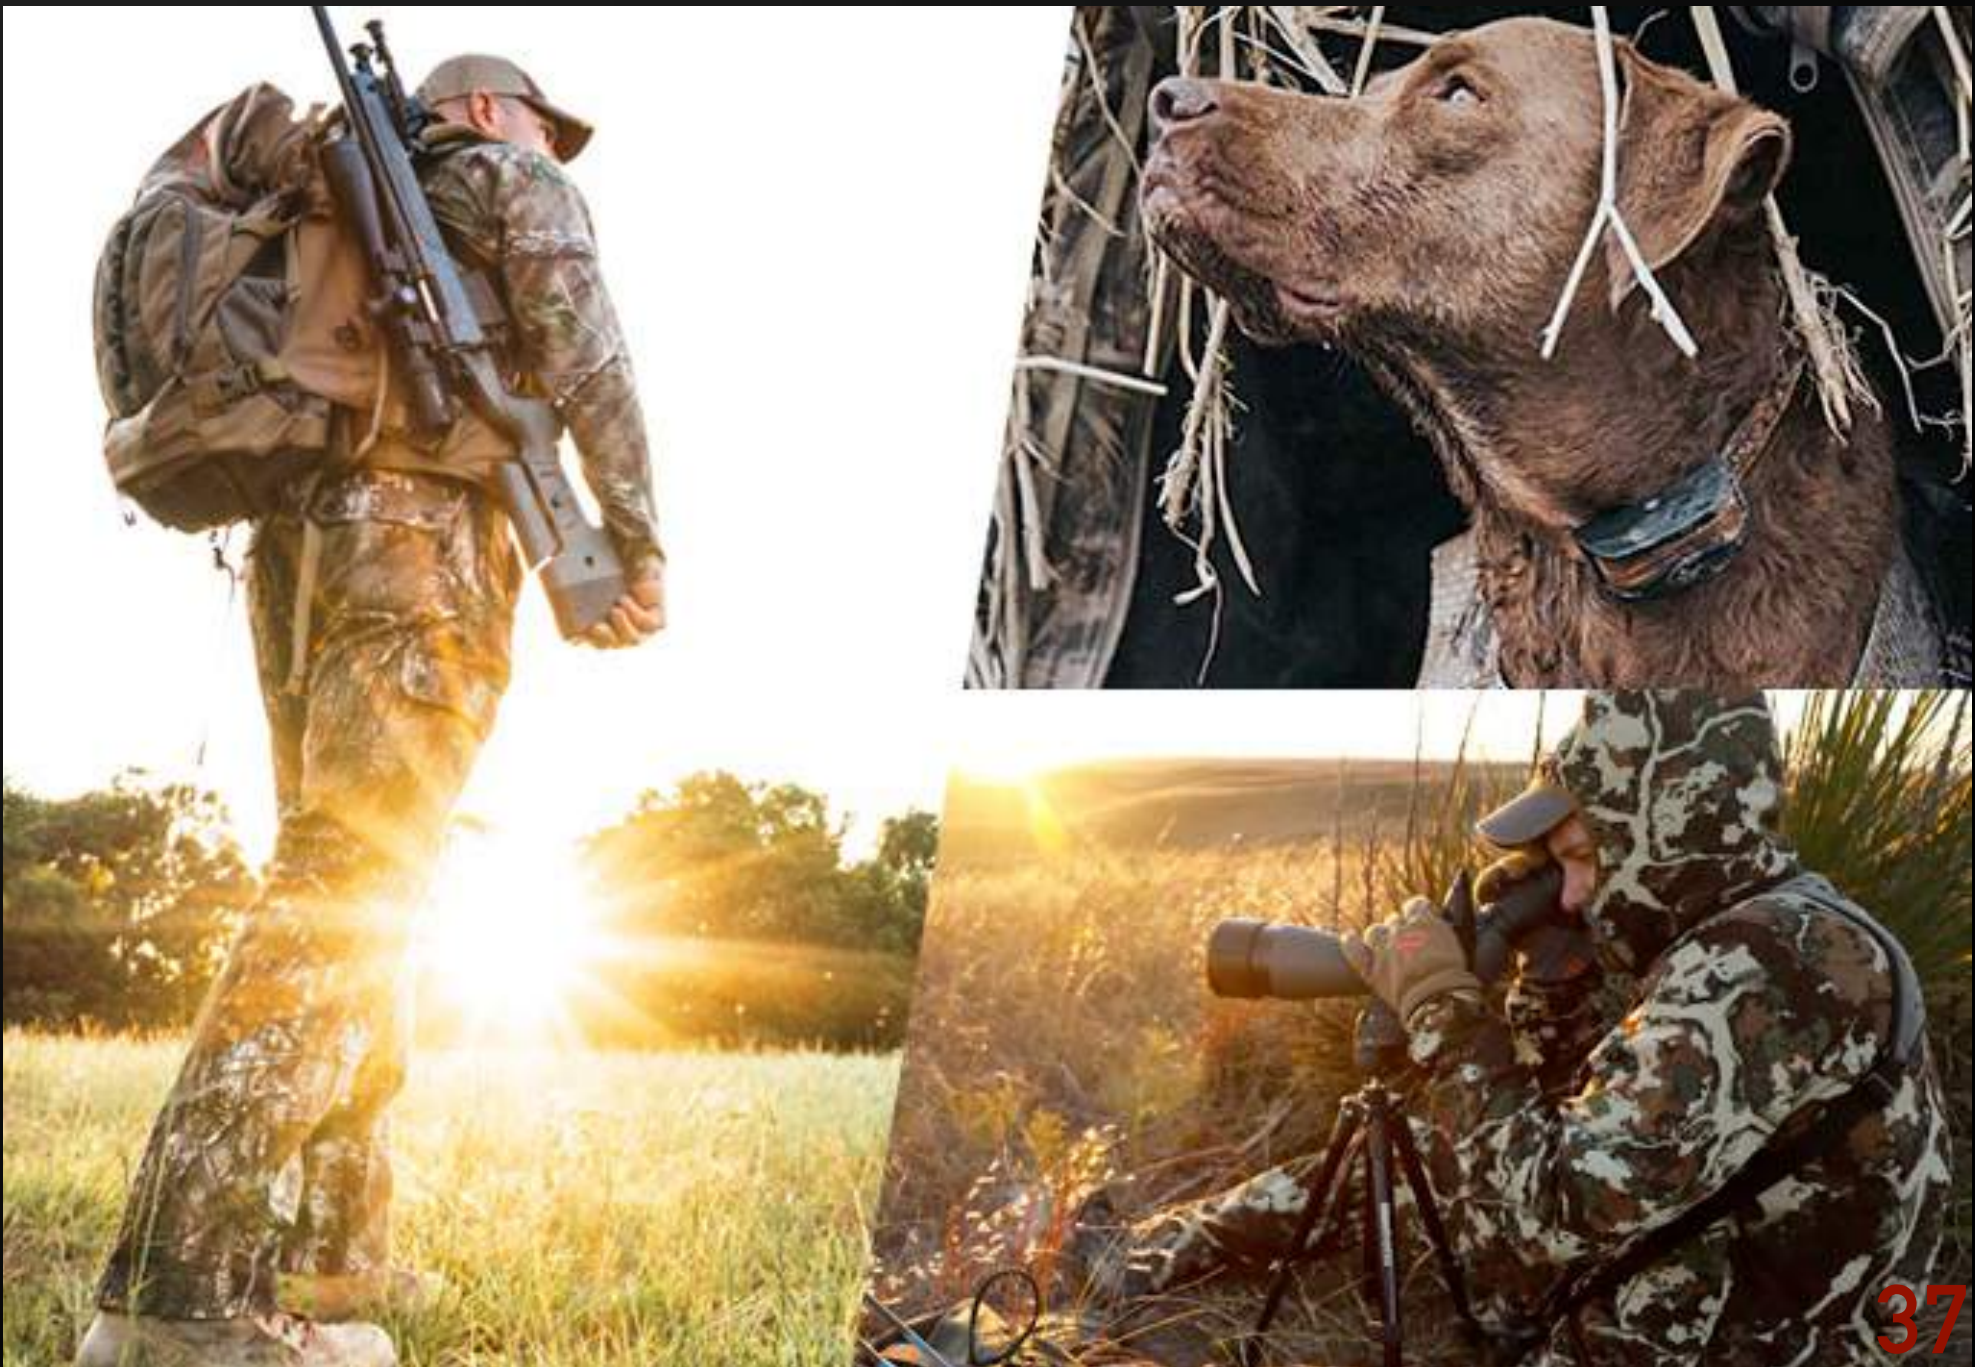

All in all, in my opinion, if you are chasing a well priced bow on todays market, this bow is excelling over the rest with a large variety of peak draw weights to 50-80 pounds, with no fancy gimmicks, just quality and performance speaking for itself. Whether you want a bow for either the 3D range or hunting, I think this is an excellent option out of the PSE line up.
